

SHELTON BDC INCOME FUND

March 31, 2017

FUND OBJECTIVE

The primary investment objective of the Shelton Capital BDC Income Fund is to provide a high level of income, with the potential for capital appreciation. The Fund will invest a majority of (and under normal market conditions, at least 70%), its net assets in common and preferred stock, convertible bonds and other securities of Business Development Companies (“BDCs”) that are traded on one or more nationally recognized securities exchanges. The Fund seeks to construct a portfolio that has low correlation to major equity or bond indices and provides an attractive total return opportunity.

PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT PROCESS

Shelton Capital Management utilizes a fundamental investment approach for portfolio construction and security selection. In constructing an investment portfolio for the Fund, the Advisor’s portfolio management team first considers key BDC valuation metrics such as dividend yield, price to book, portfolio composition, and fund fee structures. The Advisor also considers more qualitative factors including quality of management team and shareholder alignment incentives. The Advisor will use various security valuation methodologies including but not limited to: 1) dividend and earnings sustainability and growth analysis, 2) relative multiple analysis, and 3) net asset valuation (NAV) analysis. The Fund typically invests in BDCs with below market energy exposure, senior debt focused investment portfolios and above market dividend coverage metrics.

PORTFOLIO ALLOCATION

DISCLOSURES

It is possible to lose money by investing in the fund. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investing in the Fund involves risks, including those summarized below.

- An investment in the Fund is generally subject to market risk, including the possible loss of the entire principal amount invested. An investment in the Fund represents an indirect investment in the securities owned by the Fund, and accordingly is subject to the risks associated with those securities.
- Like all financial instruments, the value of these securities may move up or down, sometimes rapidly and unpredictably. The value of your investment in the Fund at any point in time may be worth less than the value of your original investment, even after taking into account any reinvestment of dividends and distributions.
- The Fund may invest in medium- and small-capitalization companies, which may be newly formed or have limited product lines, distribution channels and financial or managerial resources. The risks associated with these investments are generally greater than those associated with investments in the securities of larger, more-established companies.
- The Fund may invest to a limited degree in non-traded securities that have limited operating histories and are considered illiquid investments.
- The Fund is classified as a non-diversified management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. This means that the Fund may invest a greater portion of its assets in a limited number of issuers.
